FROM the SIDELINES

By TAD TARG

AUSTRALIAN TITLE

Two weeks ago I was advocating an All-Australian Club championship.

Today I've got some concrete news for you.

Here are the details:

Next year's Ampol Cup will be played simultaneously in four States.

Immediately after, the winners will be brought to Sydney and, on two consecutive nights, will be engaged in an Australian Ampol Cup Final!

The winner's home city will be the host for the following year's Cup final.

How's that for a feast of soccer early next season?

All this has been arranged, jointly, by the Federation and Ampol.

Well, petrol anybody?

EXPLANATION

The last remark, a free plug, was written by my boron-boosted and wonda-greased typewriter.

The author of this column — other oil interests please note — can not be held responsible for his typewriter's personal likes and dislikes.

However — Mr Walkley please note — the columnist does not mind getting some credit for it...

"FREE TRANSFERS"

Next week Soccer World will feature a Scottish "Free Transfers" list which, we hope, clubs may be able to take advantage of in the future.

We can assure you some great names are among those "Freed" at the conclusion of the 1959 season.

CHALLENGE

Last week we took up a Victorian challenge for the FA Trophy.

I believe negotiations are already in full swing and we should know the outcome in the near future.

If all goes well we'll have two NSW v Victoria clashes at the end of the season — one in Sydney, one in Melbourne.

A lot of goodwill will be created between the two States and, I hope, all "arguments", both "on" and "off" the field will be settled once and for all.

Know your rules?

I've got a "brain-teaser" for you today.

Take a good look at the diagram below:

The goalkeeper (No. 1) ran up to clear the ball at the 18-yard line.

At the same time one of his full backs (No. 2) went into the goal area to cover up for him.

Unfortunately, the goalkeeper miss-kicked the ball and it landed right at his opposing centre forward's (No. 9) feet, who passed it immediately to his inside left (No. 10).

Now, if you were the linesman, would you signal inside left (No. 10) off-side?

Before you make up your mind, I'll give you a vital clue:

Remember — there is one defender, left back (No. 2), standing practically in the goal.

Made up your min?d

Yu're wrong! He is OFF-SIDE!

I confused you a little with my "vital clue", didn't I?

The rule says: "...a player is off-side if he is nearer his opponents' goal line than the ball at the moment the ball is played, unless..... there are, TWO of his opponents nearer to their own goal than he is..."

Normally the goalkeeper stands in his goal area and we only watch one other defender.

And we take it for granted that only one defender is required nearer the goal line to avoid an off-side, forgetting, that another defender — the goalkeeper — is there as well.

In our case, the goalkeeper isn't there and only one defender nearer the goal line than the opposing forward.

So — it's a definite off-side.

I wonder how many of you knew the rule...?

Don't Let The Stars Get In Your Eyes

Soccer progress and promotion is not just a matter of "signing on" a few stars, displaying them on some backyard ground, and sitting back waiting for the crowds to roll up.

Years ago it was only necessary to rent some council ground, collect a few individuals, fit them out with any sort of gear and hope for the best.

Now and again a British migrant would arrive and he would be "billed" as some sort of "international", which occasionally stirred the interest of "dormant" soccer enthusiasts.

But they soon returned to their afternoon by the radio once they saw the "star".

Competition between States was practically non-existent.

In the international field, the Australian Council, led by Messrs Storey and Druery, brought practically no return to States or clubs in the way of prestige or finance.

GROUNDS

These are some of the reasons why the Federation is in existence today.

But with the exception of the Sydney Athletic Field, the Federation can hardly boast of improvement in regard to grounds and public amenities.

Generally speaking, the grounds available are not in keeping with the progressive outlook of the Federation.

Overseas stars secured by Federation clubs are good and have added to the interest in the game.

In the international field, things are much the same — someone makes a lot of money out of it and very little comes back into the game.

Our First Anniversary

This weekend marks the 12 months existence of the "Green Paper" — it was on July 12, 1958, that the first issue appeared.

And history-making 12 months it has been for soccer.

The Federation "outlaws" became affiliated with the Australian Association and gained control of soccer in this State.

The Federation also gave Australian soccer new hope and a new standing by creating an International Squad, inviting an overseas team here and soundly beating it.

In our first issue we said our aim was to "stimulate greater interest in the improvement of the standard of soccer in Australia to a standard equivalent to the world's best".

That is still our aim, and events of the last 12 months indicate that it is not an impossible one.

Letters to the Editor

GET MORE IMPORTS!

All clubs should be encouraged to do even more than they are doing to get on the bandwagon of imported players.

This should be done now, so we can enjoy the fruits of our efforts in our life time.

There is nothing wrong or unsportmanlike about importing players, nor there is anything to be ashamed of.

Other countries have done it and still do.

Even Brazil, the champion nation today, imported players from England and the Continent as late as 20—30 years ago.

Eventually they developed their own brand of football, suitable to their particular climatic conditions and national temperament.

Same thing can happen here.

British and the Europeans together with Australian talent will develop an Australian type of football that could be the equal of and possibly better than anything anywhere.

This could be achieved in the next 10 years.

R. Macke,
Dulwich Hill.

QUEENSLAND TOUR

The Queensland junior organisation has advised that their Under 18 State side will be visiting NSW early September.

The NSW Juniors will leave no stone unturned to give the Bananalanders a memorable visit.

NSW Juniors General Council will invite Newcastle and Illawara to arrange fixtures against the visitors.

It is possible that Queensland will play three matches in Sydney, one being against the State.

TEAM of the WEEK

Every week an A and B team will be selected from the best players in First Division teams.

The best A team player will be nominated as the "Player of the Week" and will score three points.

All other A team nominations will receive two points and B team players one point.

The player with the highest number of points at the end of the season will automatically become Player of the Year.

Ampol Cup fixtures, Federation Cup matches and the competition semi-finals, final and grand-final will not be taken into account.

Here are the players who stood out in last weekend's two rounds of matches.

Player of the Week

J. AIRD

Hakoah's Scottish World Cup International was easily the best man on the field last week.

His consistently great displays week after week stamp his as his club's most valuable player and undoutedly Australia's best full back.

Aird's intelligent positional play continually switches defence into attack and many of his team's most dangerous attacking moves stem from his clever scheming and tireless work.

PROGRESS POINTS

G. Vasvary (APIA),. P. Peters (Corrimal) each 13; J. Pretswell (Gladesv.), A. Saghi (Prague), J. Aird (Hakoah) each 12; R. Young (Corrimal) 11; J. Galambos (Budapest), R. Burns (Corrimal), K. This weekend's games

BUDAPEST v GLADESVILLE

This match, which will be played at Arlington Oval, could be described as Saturday's match-of-the-day and the game should be a good one with because both have a lot at stake.

Gladesville have slipped badly since their stirring run of wins which brought them into premiership calculations.

They could only draw their last two games with so-called weaker teams.

Last Saturday they were lucky to gain a point, and had not goalie Ken Hough played a grand game they would have been well and truly beaten on their much criticised home ground, which proves such a stumbling-block to so many top teams.

By L. Gautier

Hume had his first off-day since joining the club and it proved costly.

He is the brains behind the forward line and Rex Foster on his own found it impossible to break through the remarkable Granville defence.

Pettigrew and Pretswell were once again the stalwarts of the side and they should play a prominent part again tomorrow.

I expect the solid, and sometimes brilliant, GLADESVILLE to beat the luckless Budapest, who will have to pull something out of the box if they are to win, or even repeat their first round draw.

Budapest were frankly unlucky not to force a draw against Sydney Austral.

They played the more spectacular soccer, but, as always, their erratic defence wilted in the final stages.

Something drastic must be done at once to remedy this deplorable state of affairs if Budapest is not to slip any further down the ladder.

The team is lucky to have in Galambos the best centre forward in Australia after Baumgartner.

The gifted youngster works overtime in his team and none of his goals are made — he has to go it alone.

He is likely to give Pettigrew a torrid time on Saturday and all will depend on how well this talented player handles his opponent.

I think this game will be worth seeing, for besides the clash of styles the incentive will be so big that the match should develop into a thrilling spectacle.

BANKSTOWN v PRAGUE

Bankstown Oval should hold its biggest crowd of the season when "Goliath" Prague plays the home-team "David" Bankstown.

This match is sure to produce excitingly good football as you can discount the home side's crushing 11—0 loss three months ago.

Defence weakness

Bankstown, though they are badly off, have settled down nicely as their fighting display down the South Coast indicates.

Prague were never unduly troubled to record their 15th win of the season over Balgownie.

The team had to contend with spoiling-tactics, but whenever they really started moving they were in complete control.

The match being a rather one-sided affair no player really shone, but as usual the half-line was excellent.

Goalie Spiteri has definitely improved on last year and is quite an acceptable replacement for Ron Lord.

Thisis lucky for Prague, whose rear defence has shown alarming signs of weakness.

So far no team has really been capable of exploiting Prague's only weak point, and it seems to be that the gallant 'Towns' will not be THE team to do it.

Their visitors should carry far too many guns, though no one can reasonably expect them to win by such a crushing margin again now that Bankstown defence is much more stable and their forwards led in masterly fashion by Wainwright.

I must, of course, tip PRAGUE to record yet another win, but there should be a difference of only three goals or less, certainly no more, this time.

GRANVILLE v AUBURN

These traditional rivals meet at MacArthur Park and local fans should see a good game.

The home team, Granville, is doing well in this year's competition.

At the beginning of the season most experts expected the "new" team to stay near the bottom of the table, but it has proved every one wrong.

Granville has put up some sterling displays, thanks to a good defence, where brilliant Bob Cuneen is a peerless pivot.

Granville is, nevertheless, not quite safe yet and cannot afford to take things easy, but tomorrow's match could give the team anther handy point.

I feel it is good enough to test Auburn and gain a DRAW.

The Magpies should have beaten Gladesville last week, when Berry Rae made an auspicious debut at centre forward.

It was ironical that the only goal was scored on a penalty, because Granville had many more scoring opportunies than their opponents.

The whle team played well and showed a tremendous fighting spirit, which augurs well for coming matches.

I am counting on Granville's great heart to check Auburn's greater soccer science and more brilliant individualists.

Auburn were very disappointing last week and must admit that they were fantastically lucky to escape defeat against North Side, the Federation's most improved team.

The Auburn forwards, with the exception of Bobby Hall and to a lesser extent Quested, never got moving.

They were easily kept at bay by the opposing backs and it can be safely said that Henderson's fine display saved the team from a big defeat.

Dayney played his part to perfection, but these are meagre consolations when you wear Auburn's colors and have been used to starring so frequently in the past two seasons.

Auburn might make the "top four" again this year, but they will have to keep on winning.

They certainly cannot afford to lose tomorrow's match, but I don't think they will win it either.

The forwards, usually the team's main strength, are showing signs of staleness and this won't do when opposed to a team whose back and half-lines are full of sustained determination.

NTH. SIDE v CONCORD

North Side will again be appearing on their new home-ground of Lambert Park and the least that can be said is that the Leichhardt arena is certainly benefical to them.

The club has never played better than on this around and is well on the way out of the danger zone, after a good run of four wins.

Anything could happen, but normally tomorrow's game should add 2 points to the club's tally and make their prospects much brighter and fairly safe.

Tough opposition

North Side will find the opposition tough, but should win.

The defence is very solid and probably too strong for the light-weight inexperienced Concord forwards.

Wong was terribly unlucky to miss a penalty which would have given victory to NSU last Sunday.

But as a whole North Side, surprising as it may seem, gave Auburn a soccer lesson and outplayed last year's runners-up in nearly every department.

Metcalfe had Morrow well covered and Stiles subdued Bilbey throughout.

Bowley captained the team in his usual quiet, efficient manner.

Haschke was North Side's top man last week and worked tirelessly, though never in the limelight.

Concord played much better last weekend than the score indicates and had Hourigan, who made some terrific saves, not mishandled two APIA shots Concord would have gone down only very narrowly.

Concord was quite dangerous in the first half, with O Connor prominent, and had the other forwards shown more enterprise the APIA defence could have yielded more often.

I expect NORTH SIDE to win, but it will be quite an interesting game as Concord still have a good mathematical chance to escape demotion.

North Side has improved hundred per cent in the last few weeks and their morale is high, but the easiest looking games always hide nasty surprises.

The North Siders might well take my advice and not take things for granted — they cannot afford to let up.

HAKOAH v CORRIMAL

This is Sunday's match-of-the-day, as Hakoah is making a great bid to reach the semi-finals and the visitors, Corrimal, are eager to maintain their second place, behind unbeaten Prague.

This game will present two of the best ever defences in Sydney soccer, but both sets of forwards are unpredictable.

The result should be a very close and the game certain to thrill the big crowd sure to attend this "classic".

Corrimal won the first round encounter very narrowly at home, but I am confident that HAKOAH can reverse this result on Sunday.

The Sydney team is at last playing the brand of soccer that draws the crowds.

Last Sunday, Jock Aird gave an outstanding display, as did the whole defence once again.

Hakoah's remarkable defence has become the talk of Sydney soccer and it will be very interesting to see if Learmonth and company's bulldozing efforts will succeed where so many more technical forwards have failed.

The feature of this match will be the comparison between the half-lines — Outram, Walsh and Aranyi, and Peters, Williams and Young.

The trio that comes on top will decide the match.

I feel that Aranyi is playing so well that he could pave the way for Hakoah's win.

New Zealander Ron Kearns was visibly out of touch for his first Sydney game last week and his passes went astray.

'Battler'

At first sight it rather seems that this player could be used more efficiently at half-wing.

He appears to be more of an obscure hard worker than a dashing and foraging forward.

Alan Levinson played his best match since he was one of the Southern League's top players four years ago, and should have gained a secure first-grade berth, though Hungarian Biro made a dazzling return in the reserves and deserves to be given a chance.

The forward line as a whole functioned quite well, but many scoring chances were again muffed.

Corrimal can be thankful for their win, as a draw would have been a fairer indication of the trend of play.

Bob Young was star of the match and covered up his defence time and again when the elusive Wainwright broke through.

Orvad was very badly missed, as reserve goalie McGoldrick was understandably nervous, which accounted for two of the Towns goals.

JUNIORS STATE TITLES

Bankstown (4 wins), St. George and Canterbury (each 3 wins and a loss) figured prominently in the first round of the State championships played last Saturday.

Bankstown eliminated St. George 3—1, in the main Under 16 game, played at Bankstown Oval.

Granville Under 12s showed great potential in knocking out Canterbury, who won the grade in 1958.

Manly-Warringah officials obtained top marks for the excellence of their arrangements for the game which were played at Miller Reserve.

Manly had two wins, their Under 12 team being particularly outstanding.

Gladesville showed up particularly well in Under 14 win over Granville at Gladesville Sports Ground.

Fifteen matches were played in up to Under 16 grades.

The next rounds will be played Saturday, July 18.

Two of the championship games at MacArthur Park were filmed.

The movie equipment was operated by Messrs Alwyn Starkey and Alan Clark, who loaned it to the Granville Association.

The films of the Under 10 and Under 12 games will be the start of a film library to be established by the Granville Association.

Thanks for the practical inauguration of this scheme must go to Mrs P. Lever.

WEEKEND PREVIEW

This Sunday's game should be a grim affair, with both backlines defending desperately and it will be up to the forwords to try to force the decision.

I would not be unduly surprised if one goal was enough to clinch the game for either team.

APIA v CANTERBURY
This will be another excellent Sunday match and Lambert Park should be well filled for this clash.

It is definitely Canterbury's last opportunity of keeping its semi-finals chances alive.

J. MOORE

If the Berries lose this one, then it can be said that the 1958 premiers lost their title at Lambert Park on Sunday.

I expect Canterbury to launch a "do or die" effort to win, but am afraid that they will feel the after effects of Saturday's hard game against Corrimal.

APIA are never impressive when they play lowly-placed teams and last week's Concord match was no exception, when the team never really played as a leading one should.

The defence was reliable against weak opposition, but the forwards were again below standard, though they scored four flattering goals.

I am confident that APIA's defence will hold on Sunday, but am less enthusiastic about the forward's prospects.

Vasvary has been having a very quiet time lately, which has caused him to share his lead in Soccer World's "Best Player" list, and he has not been himself since the Costa Rican tour.

Canterbury gave a woeful display last Sunday and are a mere shadow of the glamor team that swept all before it last season.

A lot of re-thinking will have to be done if the club is to recapture its lost glory.

I am at a dead loss to understand what a player like Schopf is doing in the Canterbury line-up.

For a club that has reaped so many successes from its progressive youth policy, this acquisition is hard to follow.

Knapp is doing no better than Bruce Young; Moore tried hard last week and was the team's best forward, but was unlucky to be up against Aird — the best player on the field.

As for the other forwards, they were practically non-existent, which comes as a shock when you realise that only 10 months ago nothing could resist the Canterbury "mosquitoes".

Vital for Canterbury

Curry is still a tower of strength in defence and Jones one of the best at full back in NSW, but this is not quite enough.

Goalie Max Lemon deserves a special mention for his first-class displays, and he will have another busy day on Sunday.

Canterbury will be a very leg-weary team after their hard match the previous day and I expect APIA to prove too strong on their home ground.

If Canterbury manage to see this vital weekend through successfully, then it could prove a turning-point for them.

Saturday and Sunday will be the Berries most important dates this season.

The match at Lambert Park on Sunday will be worth going miles to see, as I cannot believe that Canterbury's beautiful pattern soccer is gone for ever.

APIA will have different views, which should produce a thrilling game.

BALGOWNIE v SYD. AUST.
This is The South Coast's only Sunday game and another Balgownie struggle for survival.

A win on Sunday would put the Villagers ahead of Bankstown, who have little chance of upsetting Prague, and very near the other lowly-rated sides.

I doubt, however, if Balgownie has the means to defeat the robust and consistent Austral XI, who fought to the finish to beat Budapest on the post last Saturday.

Though Budapest had most of the territorial domination, it was Sydney Austral who were the most dangerous in front of goal.

Their attacking trusts always had the opposition bewildered and off-balance.

De Vries starred in goal and saved a few "certain ties".

His long clearances always put his side into attack and very often relieve pressure when most needed.

Reserve player Drayer seems as if he earned himself a regular first team place with a sound display at inside left.

Had he received more support from Adrian Smit a couple of goals could have been added to Austral's account.

Balgownie went down 1—3 to the leaders at the E. S. Marks Field last Sunday, and though the score was kept down the way in which it was achieved certainly did not win friends for the South Coast club.

The majority of Balgownie players concentrated on rough and illegal play, spoiling the game.

Balgownie's equaliser was their only bright spot in the match, but despite this goal it was church-mouse soccer with not a crumb for the spectator.

The majority of Balgownie players kicked the ball from one end of the ground to the other without any finesse and devoid of purpose.

The only two players to show some real class were goalie Billington and Garipoli, who certainly deserve a better fate.

Following Balgownie's poor exhibition, I must forecast a win for SYDNEY AUSTRAL, whose hard-hitting style should prove too strong.

Challenge shield

The Challenge Shield final last weekend between Girraween and All Stars was a thriller.

One-all at half time, 2-all at full-time, the atmosphere was electric when Girraween's goalie J. Grech, alammed home a penalty in the extra time allowed in the All-Age fixture

The Maltese winners of the Challenge Shield can be proud of their display of football on the day.

The game thrilled the Juniors largest crowd for the season from start to finish.

All Stars, who nominated for the Robertson Cup showed that they will be strong challengers for the State-wide contest.

With each "Junior" day being more successful than the last, the match-of-the-day committee are building up interest in the Granville area, and by the games chosen making full use of senior Granville's Club offer of MacArthur Park.

Victorian News and Views

From L. K. STONE

The double-header at the Showground produced fireworks and an abandoned game.

The first encounter finished after 55 minutes when Yarra Park's captain refused to leave the field after being sent off.

The score at that stage was Juventus 4 and Yarra Park 1.

The game was marred by several spiteful incidents and at one stage it took referee Harrison two minutes to restore order after fighting began in the Juventus goalmouth.

At half time Juventus was leading 4—1 and looked set for a big win.

Scorers for Juventus were Cubero and Barbazza, two each.

Yarra Park's captain, Pikoylas, scored for the Greeks.

Ten minutes after restart Pikoylas was cautioned by the referee and refused to give his name.

Consequently the referee gave him marching orders.

Again Pikovlas failed to obey and the referee had no alternative but to abandon the game.

The main match, between George Cross and JUST, was also full of incidents.

George Cross won 6—0 and at times played excellent football.

Referee Hutchinson had to break up several brawls, but, on the whole, was in control of proceedings.

The Maltese proved to be too speedy for JUST, particularly Zammit, who netted three times.

Other scorers were T. Vella, Copeland and Falzon. There was too much rough play, but Muscat, the George Cross skipper, although far from being the worst offender, was the only player cautioned.

Best for George Cross were Zammit, Copeland and Muskat Reuyters, Rezuk and Beattie were best for JUST.

Polonia played attractive football to win 4—0 against an out-of-form Geelong.

The new imports were prominent against extremely weak opposition.

The new arrivals are not in the Baumgartner-Jaros-Tamandl class, but they will definitely be a great asset to Polonia's playing strength when they settle down.

Szepansky showed clever touches at wing half and some of his passes showed that he is a player of great ability.

Hakoah easily

It was difficult to find good players in the woeful Geelong team, other than their excellent keeper De Francesco, who repeatedly saved his team with almost impossible saves.

Goalscorers for Polonia were Dronia, Battari, Szygalski and Szepansky.

Hakoah easily accounted for Slavia 4—0 at Olympic Park in a poor and uninspiring game.

It was lucky for Slavia that Hakoah lacked fighting spirit, otherwise they could have easily doubled the score.

The slowfooted Slavia defence concentrated on heavy tackling with no results, other than Hakoah winger Pettersen being carried off on a stretcher after only 10 minutes play.

Pettersen came back later in the game and limped around on the wing.

Hakoah's Meier, a somewhat lazy player, came under notice as usual, with a few terrific drives.

Syd Thomas, their skipper, at present in tremendous form, was able to beat the opposition as he pleased.

Poor spectacle

Meier (2), Blakely and Artner were Hakoah's scorers. For Slavia, Brotjah, a magnificent goalkeeper, Bailish and Gotschlicht were best.

The last-named player was carried off in the second half after being brought down heavily, but by then Hakoah were content with their lead.

Referee Curran allowed dangerous tackles to go unpunished with the result that the game developed into a kick-and-rush affair.

His final whistle brought relief to players and bored spectators alike.

Wilhelmina were much too strong for Footscray and without exertion defeated the Coffeedrinkers 5—1

The game was highlighted by a brilliant hat-trick by Dutch centre forward Delgorge and Bob Wemys's first appearance in the Footscray colors.

Relegation likely

Polonia transferred their former captain and Australian international earlier in the week.

He played well, but received little support from his colleagues and it is doubtful if he will be able to save Footscray from relegation.

Other scorers for Wilhelmina were Luyton and DeBruekere, who fed their centre forward well.

Keuken is out of form and should have a spell in the reserves.

Footscray had their best players in Wemys and Reilly, who also scored their only goal.

Moreland defeated Box Hill 3—0 in a match in which neither side showed finesse or purpose.

Frankie Laughran playing well at outside right, scored two good goals for Moreland.

Best man on the field was veteran Box Hill captain-coach Angus Drenan.

The Hillmen will have to play better in future if they wish to get clear from the relegation zone.

RIVERINA ROUND-UP

By GEORGE COUSINS

A great weekend of soccer was enjoyed by Wagga fans, with the Wright Cup first round matches being played.

With the competition midway between the first and second round these cup matches provide an interesting break.

The Cup is a memorial trophy donated by Mrs Wright in memory of her late husband, who was a sterling worker for the code in the Riverina.

The Army won their way into the semi finals when they defeated Teachers College 4—3 in a thrilling game.

College are to be congratulated on the vast improvement they showed in this game.

Burns, the College keeper, turned on a great display and must be considered for future rep. games.

Veteran Jock Muir (Army) did to more than his share with fine placements to the other forwards.

Arsenal, with their "new look" forward line, dazzled the young United side to wing 6—1.

Good saves

Vrolyks made some good saves in the early part of the game for Arsenal and no doubt inspired the Gunners for the rest of the game.

Barrows worked hard for United, but badly lacked support.

Another team to go into semi-finals was Henwood Park, who won their match against competition laders Leeton 4—1.

Leeton were without dashing centre forward Alexander and did not get going at all.

Spence, the MIA half back, played his usual sound game, but lacked support from the other boys in the back line.

The Park boys played their best team football up to date and each player shone in his respective position.

Young winger Anderson scored two lovely lob shots from the wing position.

Dutch-born Dejong played the stopper game to perfection.

Competition points are: Leeton 21, Army 20, Henwood Park 16, Griffith 15, Arsenal 13, United 11, College 10, RAAF 10, Henwood (2) 6.

Best and fairest player points: Alexander (Leeton) 10, Vio (Griffith), Vella (RAAF) each 9, Brent (Army) 8, W. Dejong 7.

HEALTHY FEET OF PRIME IMPORTANCE

By F. O. KING

With regard to the younger players under his care, the trainer can become proficient in detecting any irregularities of gait when running or walking.

Maybe a youth is subject to some minor degree of foot imbalance, a defect which, other than shown by his gait, is yielding no further symptoms.

By his recognition of the fault and by introducing timely corrective exercise, the trainer could, in all probability, eliminate any tendency towards flat foot and all its attendant afflicitions — bunion, claw, toes, etc. — disabilities which would certainly mar, if not prematurely terminate, the youth's career.

PART TWO

Another important issue concerns the common practices of strapping and padding.

Undoubtedly the trainer will exercise all the care in the world when admistering these services.

But let it be clearly understood that strapping and padding of the feet is a scientific business.

Bone structure

Excluding sesamoids and the malleoli of the tibia and fibula, it is well to bear in mind there are twenty-six bones in each foot, and abnormal pressures or stresses on any of these can cause malalignment and consequent imparing of normal function.

Without careful study of the anatomical and physiological characteristics of these bones, and also of the musculature and nerve and vascular supplies, unskilled application of pads and straps, whilst seemingly achieving the immediate desired effect, may cause other and more serious traumas.

It is imperative, too, to concern oneself with the application and effect of the wide variety of drugs and dressings the trainer usually has at his disposal.

Manufacturing chemists ply their multitudinous wares on clubs throughout the football season, and though the advice given with these is intended to be helpful, the cumultative effect can be most confusing, particularly if the trainer's knowledge in this particular sphere is limited.

Most drugs and drug-impregnated dressings have their contra-indications for use, and some, while perfectly innocent, when applied individually, may create annoying irritants when joined up with certain others

For instance, it is not generally known that a combination of tincture of iodine and of ammonia, apart from being dangerously explosive, is an extreme irritant.

If ammonia has been used on the skin, — and ammonia abounds in most rubbing lotions — and iodine is subsequently applied, a serious lesion can form, resulting in a most unyielding type of ulcer.

It is clearly evident, then that this branch of chiropody requires much serious thought and study.

In conclusion, it would be true to say that the feet demand more of the trainer's time and patience than any other part of the footballer's body.

Footballers feet stand much: but denied regular and skilled treatment, it is a wonder they stand at all.

TWO LEAD IN BATTLE FOR PROMOTION

Promotion to First Division is developing into a battle between two clubs, Neerlandia and Concordia.

Neerlandia, who joined the Federation this season, has performed well and could easily win their way to First Division

Their task, of course, is no easy one, as Concordia are disputing the leadership with them.

Concordia, who were surprisingly beaten by St. George the other week, are keen to enlist the services of two good forwards in their effort to win promotion.

Next week both teams meet in what should be the Second Division match-of-the-day.

In the third Division, Toongabbie appear too good for the others.

This club is certainly setting a merry place.

Their "goals for" has already reached the three-figure mark while "goals against" are less than one a game.

Federation recognised overseas

Australian soccer has received tremendous publicity overseas in the last two years.

The revolt in New South Wales, culminating in the formation of the Federation, has been largely responsible for this.

Australian soccer has had mention in British, Austrian, Italian, German, Polish, Hungaranian, French and Central American Associations.

Why, we've even disturbed the solitude of the FIFA in Zurich.

Now comes another boost for Australia.

"France Football", the leading soccer weekly paper in France, has written to the Federation for photographs and information to be included in its Annual, published in November.

This is a great compliment when you consider that South Africa and Asian countries have not yet appeared in this coveted Annual.

Not Worth It!

We do not generally report happenings in other codes, but we felt, that we could not allow this one to pass without comment.

A well known Rugby League player, who received a four-figure fee to sign on at the beginning of this season will give the game away within the next three weeks while at the peak of his career.

Reason — "...despite all the cash in Rugby League I feel that playing is not worth while."

Overseas Trip For Juniors

The Federation is most certainly not a party to this state of affairs.

However, we do feel that the Federation has become too "star" conscious, and may be over-looking the importance of youth and the development of juniors, which after all, is the foundation of the game.

Attendances are not what they should be, and it is possible that insufficient effort has been focused on the juniors, with a view to creating greater interest to build up our attendances in the future.

A suggestion — why not sponsor a junior team to tour New Zealand?

Raise money

Let us capture the imagination of the people by offering an overseas trip to children.

As a gesture, the Federation could contribute £200 towards such a tour.

We are sure that the juniors could find the rest.

Let us fit them out in a similar fashion to the Federation Squad.

Give them a month's coaching under our best coaches, then watch attendances grow.

Let us reach the substance of our existence, the people, by creating a mutual interest between child, parent and the game of soccer itself.

Certainly, bring your "stars" but dont forget the juniors.
